George Washington Goes Down Before a Fast Team. Outclassed, But Game to the Last.

The Washington public had a chance to witness the work of a fast playing team on last Saturday, when Virginia defeated the 'Varsity team by a large score. The game was fast and exciting, despite the fact that the boys from Charlottesville tried "Hurry up" Yost's plan of making a point a minute. Throughout the contest there were constant surprises springing up and toward the last, when George Washington was on the point of scoring, the excitement reached a bursting point. Our men played good, hard foot ball, from start to finish, but they were outclassed in every stage of the game, except punting. Virginia made gains through the line, around the ends and on trick plays whenever they desired. The work of Johnson, their fleet half-back, attracted the attention of the entire audience.

The day was an ideal one from both players' and spectators' standpoint. There was no sun to make the players feel uncomfortable and no wind to distress the spectators. The crowd was perhaps the largest that has turned out to witness a foot ball game in recent years. Both teams were in fine condition, although Virginia lacked the help of Crawford, in the punting department and George Washington missed Stevenson at half-back.

GAME IN DETAIL.

George Washington kicked off to Virginia, who returned the ball ten yards. On the next play Va. ran foul, but made up the loss by a five yard quarter back run. Then Virginia broke through the line for thirty yards and on the next play made a touchdown; however, they failed to kick goal. Score, U. of Va. 5; G. W. U., 0.

Virginia kicked off and sent the ball into the bleachers. Steenerson punted from the 25 yard line and Virginia returned the ball ten yards. On the next play they made 15 yards, which they followed up by a touchdown. Again their kicker missed goal. Score, U. of Va. 10; G. W. U., 0.

George Washington kicked off to Virginia's 15 yard line, the ball was returned five yards. Virginia made ten yards on the next play and then skirted our end for 75 yards and a touchdown; this time Virginia kicked goal. Score, U. of Va., 16; G. W. U., 0.

The U of Va. man kicked into foul territory and on the kick-over, sent the ball up the field, striking the cross bar of the goal posts, Beard running it back 5 yards. George Washington was held for downs and in the next four plays Virginia scored a touchdown and missed goal. Score, U. of Virginia, 21; G. W. U., 0.

Virginia kicked to Beard, who ran the ball back 20 yards. Geo. Washington was penalized 5 yards for off side play and was held for downs, Virginia scoring on the next play. Virginia kicked goal. Score, U. of Va., 27; G. W. U., 0. Virginia kicked off to Linthicum, who ran back 15 yards. George Washington started to advance the ball down the field, but Virginia took a brace and held them, the half ending with the ball in Virginia's hands. Score, U. of Va., 27; G. W. U., 0.

SECOND HALF.

The second half was just a repetition of the first, except that toward the last, Virginia seemed to lose grip and George Washington was dangerously near the goal line. An attempt to score on a field goal when Munroe was sent in to take the place of Stevenson; the line of our team did not hold and Munroe as tackled before he had a chance to kick, this ended our chance of scoring. Virginia in this half made five touchdowns and kicked three goals. Score, at end of game, U. of Va., 56; G. W. U., 0.

Notes of the Game

Gunning was one of the fiercest and most fearless players on the field. With another year's experience he will be a star.

Morris is big, but the way he gets over the ground after a runner is astonishing. When it comes to carrying the ball, he is "the old reliable."

We predict great things of Linthicum, with a little more experience. No man played a better game Saturday.

During the time he was in the game, Stevenson was right into every play.

Wasn't Steenerson's tackling great? There was no man on the Virginia team that could equal it. Time and again he would dodge the interferer and nail the runner, and if this was impossible, he downed them both. No feature of the game caused more comment than his remarkable tackling. With a team of Steenersons the tale would have been different.

Lunsford ran the game well at quarter. He uses his head well.

The most encouraging feature of Saturday's game with Virginia was the enthusiastic support given by the rooters on the sidelines. In spite of the overwhelming defeat, yelling, cheering, and singing went on during the whole game, and was loudest when things looked darkest. When they were going through our line like paper the cheering was loudest and when a player was temporarily "out" he was cheered to the echo. While such spirit exists in the University there is no disgrace in a defeat now and then. There are no quitters at George Washington.

Fraternity Directory

The Assistant Treasurer is arranging a Directory of Fraternity Houses, but his list is yet incomplete. Fraternities will please send to the Editor the addresses of their Houses, and the names of Fraternity correspondents. These below have been secured, and if any are incorrect, please notify: Psi Omega, (Dental), 717 13th St. Sigma Chi, 732 21 St. N. W. Phi Chi, (Medical), 1307 H St. N. W. University of Cincinnati Debate

The first debate between George Washington University and the University of Cincinnati will take place at Washington next April. At a recent meeting of the Inter-Collegiate Debating Council it was voted that the first preliminary contest to determine the make-up of the team that will represent this University shall be held on Friday evening, November 24th, at 8 P. M. The precise place and the names of the judges will be announced hereafter.

From among those participating in this first contest, not less than six nor more than ten will be chosen to take part in the final contest. Each speaker will be allowed eight minutes on whatever side of the question he chooses to defend. The general public will be admitted, but contestants will not be allowed to listen to the speeches of other candidates until after their own speeches have been delivered. The order of speakers will be determined by lot.

The question is worded as follows:

"Resolved, That the effect of great industrial combinations, commonly known as Trusts, is detrimental to the interests of the wage earning classes."

Kappa Sigma Initiation

The Alpha-Eta Chapter of the Kappa Sigma fraternity takes pleasure in announcing the initiation of the following four new members: Horace Dodge Rouzer and Morris K. Lunsford, of the first year class of Arts and Science Department; Luke Valour Landry, of the Law Department, and John S. Clifford, of the Medical Department.

Columbian College

Mr. Whitmore desires to announce the appointment of the following executive committee for the Senior Class: Miss C. V. Barbour, Miss M. A. McMahon, Mr. K. M. Block, Mr. A. D. Stivers, Mr. W. H. Houghton.

There will be a very important meeting of the Senior class on Monday, at 6.30, in West Hall. It is urgent that all Seniors should come as it concerns each one personally.

Law

Hurrah for Judge Peelle! He made a contribution to the Law '07 fund the other day that made them think he must be president of an insurance company. The Judge is alright—and may form a "Partnership" with us, any day.

Morris, '07, played a great game Saturday. His tackling was something fierce and more than once he broke through the Virginia line. A bystander was heard to remark that it was remarkable that such a big man was so fast on his feet. No other man is displaying so much loyalty to the University and self-sacrifice as he in playing foot ball. The whole University owes him a vote of thanks.

Class '06 will banquet in the near future. President Badger has announced the following committees who will be in charge of all arrangements:

Program—Woodwell, C. W. Morris, Nixon, Woods, Cooke.

Decorations—McNamee, Swingle, Shelton, Cohen, Harralson.

Souvenir—Mahon, Burnstine, McLean, Alden, Crist.

Invitation—Badger, Stetson, Garnett, Meyers, Fisher.

"Sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander." This is an equitable doctrine, so says Prof. Scott. The professor is also well versed in matters touching matrimony.

Mr. Samuel J. Henry, who was a member of Law, '07, last year, will be married to Miss F. Adelaide Jullien on December 14. He will re-enter the University next year.

The Mall

Since there are many new students in the university who are unacquainted with the history of the production of The Mall, the following explanation and rules are printed. As will be seen, the editor and business manager for 1906-'07 will be selected next May, and it is not too soon for those who desire these positions to begin to qualify themselves by producing work to go into this year's Mall.

Last January the Association of Class Presidents evolved the idea of an Annual that would represent the whole university, instead of having a year book produced as a private enterprise as heretofore. Mr. C. M. Booth was elected editor-in-chief and Mr. A. M. Beeler, business manager. They produced a most excellent Mall last May.

In April the Association adopted the following rules:

Rule 1.—The Association of Class Presidents shall annually on or about May 20th elect by ballot from among the student body of the university an editor-in-chief of the "Mall," who shall serve for one year from the date of his election and until his successor is elected.

And they shall at the same time and in like manner elect a business manager of the "Mall" who shall serve for the same length of time.

Rule 2.—Applications for these positions should be sent or handed to some member of the Association of Class Presidents and by him shall be presented to the Association for consideration, together with a statement of the qualifications of the applicant.

Rule 3.—"The Mall Board" shall consist of the following:

1st. The Editor-in-Chief and Business Manager.

2d. One Editor from each regularly organized class in the University, who shall be selected in such manner as the class shall determine.

3d. One member of the faculty, selected by the President's Council.

4th. One Alumnus, selected by the President's Council.

Rule 4.—The Editor-in-chief shall be chairman of the Board, and shall have entire charge of the literary and artistic composition of "The Mall." He shall hold meetings of the Board, assign work to the various class editors, offer prizes for material for publication, pass upon matter submitted by the class editors and others, and in general superintend the publication. He shall be allowed large discretion in the detail of the work, and will be held responsible for results.

Rule 5.—The Business Manager shall have entire charge of the business management of the publication and circulation of the "Mall." He shall solicit advertisements and subscriptions, make arrangements for securing photographs, make all necessary contracts with printers and engravers, and collect and pay out all moneys in connection with the publication of the "Mall."

He shall submit a report to the Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Association of Class Presidents at the close of his term of service, setting forth in detail the receipts and disbursements of the Board during the year, which report shall be approved by said committee before being accepted by the Association.

Rule 6.—"The Mall" shall be published annually at or near the close of the school year, and shall in so far as possible reflect the student life and activities of the University. Special attention and honor shall be given therein to the graduating classes of the University.

Rule 7.—Should a class editor, as above provided, fail to perform the work assigned him by the editor-in-chief, or in any way prove unsatisfactory, such fact should be reported to the president of the Association by the editor-in-chief, and it will be his duty to bring the matter before the association at an early date, where both the complaint of the editor-in-chief and the defense, if any, of the class editor, shall be heard. If no satisfactory settlement of the matter can be had, his class will be notified of that fact, and they will be allowed to select another editor.

Rule 8.—The Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Association of Class Presidents, together with a member of the faculty to be selected by the President's Council, shall audit the accounts of the business manager at the close of his term of service, and shall receive from him and turn over to his successor any money belonging to the Board then in his hands. The chairman of the Finance Committee shall at the close of this work cause to be published in THE HATCHET a summary of his report.

Rule 9.—The editor-in-chief and reasonable time after the election of their successors in which to close up any matters in connection with the work of the Board that may be then pending. It shall be their duty to render all the assistance within their power to their successors in the way of explaining the details of the work and the methods pursued.

Rule 10.—These rules may be amended by a majority vote at any regular or called meeting of the Association of Class Presidents, and until so amended shall be in full force and effect from the date of their adoption.

Under these rules R. I. Moore was elected editor-in-chief and E. C. Wilson business manager of "The Mall" for 1905-'06.

It also adopted the following recommendations of the editor and manager: "It is recommended that the time for the issuing of "The Mall" be not more than five days before or five days after the third Monday in May. It is not desirable to issue the book before this time, for the reason that the seniors could not be given proper credit for honors in debating, athletics and other lines of activity won near the close of the school year. Another reason is that by the issuance of the book two or three months before the end of the school year the officers of the Editorial Board would curtail their term of office. The book is to chronicle student achievements during the school year, and this can be done more completely and satisfactorily by waiting as long as is practicable before the final press work is done.

It is further recommended that the editor-in-chief be given the power to appoint at his discretion athletic, fraternity, art and literary, debating and other editors. The appointment should be subject to formal ratification by the Association. A great deal depends upon the congeniality of the editor and his associates and assistants, and for this reason the appointment of these editors by the editor is recommended rather than their selection by this Association."

Axinelochos Club

A social club has been organized in the Sophomore Class to take the place of the Owl Club of last year under club name of the Axinelochos. It gives it initial function November 15. Members, Mr. Turkinton, Mr. Hursey, Mr. Macgruder, Mr. McInturff, Mr. Shoenfeldt, Mr. Watkins, Mr. Brooks, Mr. Curl, Mr. Robinette, Miss Mahon, Miss Field, Miss Evans, Miss McLeod, Miss Merrill and Miss Mac Mullen.

Columbian Women

The Columbian Women held a meeting Saturday evening, November 11, in the library of the University, to listen to reports from representatives of Wellesley Smith and the University of Chicago upon students' aid work as carried on in these colleges. Miss Siderell, Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Hubbard gave very practical suggestions in regard to making loans to students unable either to go to college or to finish their course. These talks were especially interesting in their bearing upon the influence of the scholarship fund, now being raised by the Columbian Women, on the life of the future University.

Following these reports an informal reception was held, during which several solos were sung by Miss Bethune, and a selection was given by the Girl's Glee Club.

The Columbian Women held their regular monthly business meeting in the College on Monday evening, November 13, at 4:15 o'clock. There were present thirty members. Miss Shanley was elected Treasurer in place of Mrs. Harshman, who had resigned. Reports were heard from the committees of plans for the winter's work. The following were elected to membership: Mrs. Williston Hough, Mrs. E. B. Rosa, Mrs. Geo. L. Raymond, Mrs. T. DeWitt Croissant and Miss Ethel McCleary.

Miss Pauline Stevenson witnessed the Harvard-Penn. game, Saturday, November 11th. The game was of especial interest to her as her brother played quarterback on the victorious team.

Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club has begun its work for this year, and made its first appearance at the reception given by the Columbian Women on Saturday evening, November 11. Hereafter the regular rehearsal of the Club will be held on Thursdays, at 1 o'clock sharp, in West Hall. It is hoped that all the old members and any Freshman girls who sing, will come out to the next rehearsal, and help make the Glee Club as successful this year as it was last.

The Alumni Society of the University of Georgia donated to the University Y. M. C. A. the alumni fund of $40,000 toward the erection of what will be the largest college association yet planned. A condition is made that $35,000 more is to be secured by the association.

Chicago University has called for drawings of seals from which to select one. A large number of designs were presented, but all bearing the student lamp were rejected, as it was thought that it would suggest Standard Oil.

Chi Omega

A very enjoyable evening was spent by the girls of Chi Omega, on Friday, November 3, at the home of Miss May Walkup, in Petworth. The guests of honor were the six pledgees of the fraternity.

On the evening of November 4, at their apartment, the Chi Omega fraternity initiated into the bonds, Nellie Bessiliever, Helen Dunwoody, Mildred Duvall, Anne Ettenger, Eva Field and Mildred Johnston. After the initiation the rest of the evening was spent in a housewarming, as the fraternity had that day moved into their new quarters, at the Farragut.

Board of Lady Managers

The monthly meeting of the Board of Lady Managers of the George Washington University Hospital was held at the University Hospital, Monday, November 6 at 10:30 o'clock, with an attendance of 32.

The new officers of the Board are as follows:

President, Mrs. Howard L. Hodgkins; First Vice-President, Mrs. Chas. J. Bell; Second Vice-President, Mrs. H. C. Yarrow; Recording Secretary, Mrs. E. B. Rosa; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. W. McK. Stowell; Treasurer, Mrs. S. E. Lewis.

Twelve new members were elected to the Board.

Plans for the work of the year were discussed. This includes the usual Thanksgiving donation of provisions and money to the Hospital. A committee will be at the Hospital all day on the 29th to receive money and articles useful in hospital work.

The date of the students' ball is to be determined by the Executive Committee.

The Corresponding Secretary was instructed to express to Dr. J. Ford Thompson the sorrow and sympathy of the Board upon the death of Mrs. Thompson, who was an active member of the Board.

University Assembly

The subject of President Needham's address at the noon Assembly last week, was "The Student Spirit."

Miss Edith Stowell rendered a solo in a pleasing manner.

It was announced that General Draper, of Massachusetts, had founded a scholarship of $300.00. Preference is to be given to applicants from Massachusetts and next, to those from Virginia.

Freshman Meeting

There will be a meeting of the Freshman Class, College, Friday, November 17, at 6:30 P. M., in West Hall. It is important that every member of the class be present.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1905

It is not often that an editor-in-chief gets the support from assistant editors that we are receiving from some members of the staff. We wish to acknowledge their good work and thank them for their co-operation.

Mr. J. R. Biggs is keeping the Medical column alive with newsy notes from that school, and should receive the thanks of all medical men for the way in which he is keeping them before the student body. He is one of our best writers.

Miss Harriet Freebey never lets anything in the social life of the University escape her. Although she leads a very busy life in the Library, she sacrifices her time to see that this phase of student life is not neglected.

Mr. Edwin Smith, Jr., is always on the lookout for news of the Engineering Department, and has brought it from a position of obscurity to occupy a prominent place in the news of the University. He can always be depended on to do his part.

Mr. Clarence Whitmore is wide-awake to all concerning the College, and in some way finds out everything going on there and in other departments as well. Many men with half the work he carries would never find time to write a line.

Mr. R. S. Clinton, of the Dental Department, deserves especial mention for his ability to find news where ninety-nine others would see none. Through him the Dentals are receiving an advertisement second to none in the University.

Mr. H. J. Bryson is holding up the Athletic side and is always on hand to give us a description of the games.

We are always glad to play a team composed of such gentlemen and square-dealing fellows as is Virginia's team. There was no unnecessary roughness on the field, and slugging, so prominent in games at other Universities was conspicuous by its absence. With such teams as Virginia, no one could have anything to say of the degrading effects of foot ball. At the University of Virginia they know how to conduct themselves entirely as becomes gentlemen, as well as to play ball.

We were defeated Saturday, but we expected that. We are not at all despondent, for we realize that we were simply outclassed. We are very much encouraged by the showing that our team made at times against such a strong and experienced team as Virginia. They are veterans in the game, while we are mere infants. The way to become strong in the game is to play teams stronger than we are, and with a high standard before us we will grow rapidly toward it. A team doesn't learn anything by playing a weak team, it is from our superiors that we learn.

Keep at it and our day will come. We remember seeing a college team defeated overwhelmingly year after year by a team that far outclassed them, the score getting smaller each year, till at last one year the once weaker team defeated their conquerors, and did it more than once.

Our team is made of the stuff that will become stronger, otherwise it would not have held up so bravely with the game so much against it, and near the end roused up and began to push Virginia back. All we want is more time and experience, and we shall see the day when there will be another story to be told.

Reverend Frank Leighton Day

Announcement is made of the appointment of the Reverend Frank Leighton Day, Ph. D., to the Chair of Biblical Literature in The George Washington University. This appointment re-establishes the Chair of Biblical Literature which has been vacant since the resignation in 1902 of Professor E. B. Pollard.

Dr. Frank Leighton Day was born and reared in Roanoke County, Virginia. He is of English descent, has ancestors having crossed over and settled in Appomattox County about the middle of the eighteenth century. He entered Roanoke College, Salem, Virginia, at the age of fifteen and graduated with degrees A. B., and M. A. in 1891. The year following was appointed pastor of St. James M. E. Church, South, at Roanoke City, Va. From 1892 to 1895 he was a student in the Theological Seminary at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., taking the degree of Bachelor of Divinity. From the Seminary he was called to the pastorate of Sudbrook Church, Baltimore, Md., and at the end of four years was transferred to West Washington Church, Washington, D. C., and while there completed the course for the Ph. D. degree at Columbian, now The George Washington, University. He stood high in the Baltimore Conference of the M. E. Church, South, acting as President of the Board of Education and serving on the four-year examining committee in the conference studies for young ministers. Since that time he has been doing advanced work in Biblical Literature and Semitic language at the University of Chicago.

A number of applications for graduate work in this department of study have been presented this session and Professor Day will, therefore, enter upon his work in its most interesting phase. The formulation of the undergraduate courses will be taken up this year and due announcement made in the annual catalogue.

Common Law Pleading "Nevermore"

Once upon a midnight dreary, while I pondered weak and weary,
Over the lecture of the night before,
While I nodded, nearly napping,
there came a tapping,
As of some one gently rapping, rapping at my chamber door.
"Tis some visitor," I muttered,
"tapping at my chamber door—
Only this and nothing more."
But, up there sprang a being,
whom I scarce remembered seeing,
In the lecture of the night before:
It was De Bonis Asportatis, dressed in a formedon of yore.
I said, "Quare clausam fregit."
He said, "That is wrong you boor;"
I vi et armis broke the door."
Again I slumbered weary; and O,
It was so dreary,
I saw writs of every name upon the floor,
And with pleadings and demurrer, and errors galore.
Then up I sprang, half frantic,
and in language romantic,
swore
An oath I ne'er swore before:
By "absque hoc," if I had a rock,
I'd throw this son-of-common-law pleading, out the door."

Needham Debating Society

The question, Resolved, That the business of life insurance companies should be regulated by Congress, was won by the negative at the regular weekly meeting of the Needham Debating Society, Nov. 10, 1905. Those of the winning team were: Messrs. Margeson, Deller and Lundy. The affirmative was represented by Messrs. Baker, Keifer, and Frayser. Mr. Lundy was awarded first honor, while Mr. Frayser received second.

It was announced that the agreement to debate with the University of Cincinnati had been closed and that this debate would take place in this city. This bit of information was received with enthusiasm and no doubt George Washington will add yet another laurel to her debating trophies. But this desirable result will not be achieved except by an earnest co-operation of all the students of the University and it is earnestly urged that every student lend at least the encouragement of his presence to those who will be selected to represent our honored University in the coming debate. Therefore, let all debaters, who have failed to identify themselves with one of the societies, turn over a new leaf and henceforth attend regularly the meetings of the different societies. Thus only will we obtain the much desired "esprit de corps" which is so absolutely necessary to enable any team, whether foot ball, base ball, or any sport requiring a united body of men, to go forth and win.

The following subject, Resolved, That the size of our navy should not be increased, under present conditions, was the one announced for the next debate, Nov. 17. This question will be handled in the affirmative by Messrs. Phillips, J. F. Patterson, and Thomas and on the negative by Messrs. Taylor, Carnes, and Ramsey.

Columbian Debating Society

There was an enthusiastic debate on the question of municipal ownership of public utilities in large cities, at the regular meeting of the society last Friday. The judges decided that the negative were entitled to the decision. The affirmative speakers were: Messrs. Muhleman, Swingle and Hughey, and the negative was sustained by Messrs. Twyeffort, Shepherd and Dunning. Honors were awarded to Messrs. Muhleman and Dunning, and Mr. Hughey was given an honorable mention.

On Friday the society will debate on the question, Resolved: That the policy of excluding Chinese laborers from the United States should be maintained and rigorously enforced.

The attention of members of the society is called to the notice on the bulletin regarding the first preliminary for places on the team which will debate against the University of Cincinnati. The first trial will be held November 24.

Kappa Sigma Entertains

Although our team went down in defeat before the strong aggregation from Virginia on Saturday last, that is no indication that the spirits of George Washington men were at all dampened, as can be attested by all who were present at the Kappa Sigma smoker the night of the game.

All of the active Chapters were present, and a large number of alumni, besides many guests from the various departments of the College and some of Washington's best musical talent.

College and popular songs were sung, yells given and good fellowship prevailed.

Several musical selections were given which were very heartily appreciated, among these being a vocal selection by Mr. Claibough; a selection on the violin by Mr. Schultz and Mr. Leiter on the piano. Mr. Todd, the manager of the Mandolin and Guitar Club, is to be thanked for the musical program.

Among the distinguished alumni present were Dr. Geo. T. Vaughn, Assistant Surgeon General U. S. N. and Professor in the Georgetown University; Chas. W. Holmes, Treasurer of George Washington University; Dr. H. D. Fry, of the P. G. Medical College; Dr. Copeland, of the George Washington University Medical faculty; Dr. Stephen Olin Richie, Dr. Grasty, of the Medical Faculty, and Wm. B. Hollan, Referee in Bankruptcy.

Freshman Medical Notes

Our foot ball team has been definitely organized. Mr. Frey has been elected captain of the team. The line-up of the team is as follows: Center, Eldridge; guards, Willis and Powell; tackles, McKnight and Fair; ends, Wood and Peirce; quarterback, Frey; half-backs, Jobson and Harris; full-back, Pole.

Dr. Phillips—Mr. Chappel, where are the plantar interosseal muscles attached?

Mr. Chappel—To the first, second and third little toes.

A few of the Freshman Medics had a little practical experience in osteology Saturday morning, over on the foot ball field. They were watching a game between two juvenile teams. Suddenly, one of the players had his leg severely wrenched. He declared it was broken. But the would-be doctors hastily examined the injured member and assured the youngster that no bones had been misplaced.

Jay Brown, formerly an orderly at Sibley Hospital, has accepted a similar position at University Hospital.

Medical

Institutional work is not being neglected by the Hatchet Class. Johnston is in the University Hospital, Mess at Garfield, Conklin at the Emergency, and we regret to state that Stout is in jail with prospects of remaining there for two years.

Several of the Medics went home to vote last week. They have all returned, reporting that they have "saved the country" again.

The number of medical men at the Mass Meeting last Thursday was not up to our standard. "Cold feet" regarding such affairs is a chronic disease in some of the other Departments of the University, but a new ailment with the Medics. It is up to the "Doctors" to cure this lack of interest by being there themselves.

When a Mass Meeting is called every man should attend and not say, "Well, there'll be crowd enough without me." That's what the other fellow says.

If Wilson had not been too modest to lead his new yell with the proper vim it would have been more of a success. Don't let your false modesty get the better of you again, "E. C." That's all.

Mr. J. R. Laughlin, a Ki Yi, was unanimously elected Yell Master for the Virginia game by the "faithful" who attended the Mass Meeting last Thursday. Mr. Laughlin is well known throughout the University for his enthusiasm in promoting University interests.

Mr. F. S. Avery, of the Sophomore Medical Class, is to be congratulated for his excellent work in gratuitously preparing and placing in the hands of the rooters a yell and song list. It aided materially in the rooting at the Virginia game Saturday.

Dr. Taylor played a great game at American League Park last Saturday. He was on the field (with his little satchel) during every minute of play.

The medical contingent turned out in large numbers at the game Saturday.

Dr. Bovee gives his first lecture to the Junior and Senior Classes on Saturday, November 18, at 8:00 A. M., and will lecture at that hour every Saturday throughout the year.

"During the Civil War, for instance, the circumstances in that regard were most remarkable."

"No, they don't bark at all."

Have you met "Our Old Enemy" lately?

KI YI CLASS ELECTION.

A meeting of the Senior Medical Class was called last Thursday evening for the purpose of electing officers. After the ballot boxes had been fished out of the water tank on top of the Medical Building and a re-count made the judges decided that Mr. Mead Moore, of Kentucky (the Ki Yi Ownership Candidate), had been elected President by about 90,000 majority.

The election of the other officers resulted as follows:

First Vice-President, Earle C. Stevenson, Nebraska; Second Vice-President, J. R. Laughlin, Pennsylvania; Secretary, A. Camp Stanley, Wisconsin; Treasurer, H. B. Montgomery, Ohio; Historian, A. N. Tasker, District of Columbia; Prophet, J. L. Arntzen, Missouri; Sergeant-at-Arms, O. S. Phillips, Nebraska; Class Editor Mall, Wm. H. Smith, Jr., District of Columbia.

The executive will be appointed at an early date.

The complete harmony which existed in the selection of officers is seldom, if ever, equalled in a graduating class. There was a decided unanimity of feeling and every member of the class feels that the best man for the position was elected in every case.

We expect great things of this class during the year.

SECOND YEAR MEDICAL.

We regret that our President, Mr. Athey, has been so busy that he hasn't been able to get around to classes. Hope he will be with us again shortly.

Our jolly fat man, Mr. Fred Moore, is in New York State taking a well-earned rest. His friends look for him soon, and hope he will be ready for the fray once more.

Well, the Chemistry Examination has come and gone. Most of the fellows still wear a cheerful smile, so guess that Dr. Munroe didn't do such a great lot of damage after all. If the Doctor forgets what the second question was, do you suppose he will be able to recognize a description of the spectroscope?

Brother Pyne reports that he got "slightly mixed" on Boyle's law.

One thing the examination seemed to show was that the honor system is still in its primary stages, and is not fully understood by all.

Mr. E. Griffith took a little vacation last week, running up to Altoona, Pa., where he visited with friends. He says he had a good time, but that isn't surprising—he always makes a good time for himself wherever he goes.

By the way, one of the boys had a little bad luck in the Physiological Laboratory lately; spilled some nitric acid on his trousers. They have gone the way of all trousers, and the unfortunate states he believes he will never forget the exact color which nitric acid has on organic matter.

One of the doctors, while lecturing on ginger, told us that it was very popular in temperance towns. Well, he ought to know.

We are glad to receive the new fall numbers of exchanges—especially the UNIVERSITY HATCHET, which appears in an enlarged and improved condition. It takes on the appearance of a real university weekly, and comes to us full of news.—Western Maryland College Monthly.

The Students' Ball

It was decided by the Board of Lady Managers that the Students' Ball will be given this winter in the early part of February. The ball is one of the most enjoyable functions of the year both in University circles and in the social life of Washington, and the coming one promises to surpass all others in point of popularity.

The following ladies have been added to the entertainment committee:

Mrs. C. H. Ackert, Mrs. Thomas H. Anderson, Mrs. George H. Brown, Mrs. William Kearney Carr, Mrs. J. M. Culp, Mrs. W. Duncan McKim, Mrs. Donald McLean, Mrs. J. B. Lerner, Mrs. Herman Walbridge and Mrs. William R. Vance.

The members elected at this meeting were:

Mrs. Truman Abbe, Mrs. Charles H. Davidge, Mrs. Henry J. Finley, Mrs. Horatio King, Mrs. Samuel S. Laws, Miss Lightfoot, Mrs. Rob Roy McKahan, Mrs. Donald McLean, Mrs. M. A. Shipe, Mrs. George W. Trowbridge, Mrs. Walter H. Wells and Mrs. Frank A. Wolff.

College of Engineering

CIVIL ENGINEERING SOCIETY.

The Civil Engineering Society of the University held its annual meeting for the election of officers on the evening of Tuesday, Nov. 7. The following officers were elected: President, E. H. King; Vice-President, R. E. Adams; Secretary, H. C. Hartley; Treasurer, H. P. Warner; Chairman of the Program Committee, A. D. Stivers.

All Civil Engineering students in Senior, Junior, and Sophomore classes are invited to join the society. The idea is to have the students come together, where they can learn new things from each other, discuss problems relating to their work, and benefit themselves generally in their chosen profession.

The Mechanical Drawing class moved into its new quarters in the Van Ness Mansion last week. The new rooms are on the second floor, on the west side of the building. They are well lighted and afford ample room for yearly increase of the class.

The large room on the third floor of the University building, formerly occupied by the drawing class, will be used by Professor Wilbur for the English classes, thus leaving West Hall open for special occasions.

Freshman Dance

The Freshman Dance, Wednesday evening, November 8, was reported by many who are critics in such matters to be the most beautiful affair ever given at the College. The library and halls were exquisitely decorated in the class colors, gold and white. There were palms, large chrysanthemums white and yellow, and drapings of the same color everywhere. The chandelier in the library looked like big bunches of golden chrysanthemums half hidden in autumn leaves. An orchestra of five pieces was stationed in the hall between the library doors, separated from the gay throng by banks of palms and class flowers. Dainty refreshments, fine music, beautiful girls, handsome men—altogether a brilliant affair. The committee who had things in charge deserve great credit. The guests of honor were Mrs. Charles W. Needham and Dean and Mrs. Wilber.

Sophomore Club

A number of members of the Sophomore Class of the College met at the home of Miss Moyer, 610 Eighth street, N. E., last Saturday evening and organized the Sophomore Club, for the new school year. After the necessary business incident to organization was transacted, the gathering gave itself up to lighter pleasures, which were only disturbed by the arrival of the morning paper and the ringing of the church bells.

The following officers were elected: President, Mr. Van Vleck; Vice-President, Miss Moyer; Secretary, Mr. Gates and Treasurer, Miss Swartwout.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Miss Barbour, 1326 Twelfth street, N. E., on November 25.

"The editor, with gladsome cry,
 Exclaims, "My work is done;"
 The manager, with weary sigh,
 Complains, "My work is dun."

Dental

Orthodontia work, under Dr. Bassett, was actively begun last Tuesday night, November 7th, when impressions were taken and models poured in plaster of Paris for practice work. Messrs Vandewal and Brittin, who were the only men of the class having dentures of sufficient variation from normal to make them desirable for practice, were patient martyrs to the cause and sat around most of the evening with their mouths full of impression trays modeling composition and students' fingers, cheerfully disregarding the fact that most of the modeling composition that was used has seen previous service.

Dr. Coby, who was demonstrator for the Junior Class the latter part of last year, has been appointed instructor in porcelain inlay work. Friday, November 10th, he visited the Infirmary in the afternoon, and in conversation gave a general idea of what the work would consist. He expects to begin the course with a few lectures and demonstrations supplemented by a course of reading. The main things, he says, is for the men to do the work with their own hands, as they might sit around for five years and listen to lectures and watch demonstrations, and yet not be any more capable of executing porcelain inlay than they were at the beginning.

In selecting Dr. Coby for this position, the school has secured a man who makes a specialty of this work, and who is very enthusiastic. The Doctor was very popular with the Junior Class last year. He has had ample experience as demonstrator, and renders assistance to all without partiality. The Senior men, for whom the course is given, are much pleased at the prospect of gaining some insight into the manipulation of this most modern of filling materials.

School of Architecture

The opening of the School of Architecture this year, was marked by a much increased attendance, greater enthusiasm and a greatly enlarged staff of instructors.

Sixteen of the old students reported and are hard at work. Of the new material there are over twenty, including two young ladies, and enough more have signified their intention of registering to bring the total attendance to over forty. Although it has been less than a year since the School moved to its new quarters, the increase of the number of students, has taxed them to the utmost.

Mr. Louis A. Simon, who for the last three years, has had the classes in building construction and orthographic projections, has been compelled to resign, and Mr. Albert Burnley Bibb has been appointed to succeed him.

Doun, Jr., of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, have been engaged to criticise and take charge of the Beaux Arts Problems. All are practicing architects of note, and from their coming the students expect to derive much benefit.

One other feature that heretofore has not been enjoyed is the special course in Architectural History for school teachers. It is divided into two parts: the Ancient, conducted by Mr. Bibb, and Renaissance, by Professor Ash.

This year, also, the students have the advantage of three courses at the Corcoran Art Gallery, a privilege that is new.

Taken as a whole, with a larger number of students, greater advantages for study and a stronger corps of instructors than ever before, the School bids fair to have the most successful year in its history.
